

John Marty Community Garden

Beaverton, OR

Community Gardens are places where many people can rent garden plots to grow their own produce and flowers. The John Marty Community Garden is one of 17 community gardens cared for by the Tualatin Hills Park and Recreation District.

“My favorite part about my job is learning and discovering new plants types in our community gardens.”

-Jessica Justice,
Community Gardens Program Assistant at THPRD

What we saw on our field trip!

(Trace the words below)

Compost

Plants

Pollinators

Visit the John Marty Community Garden and contact THPRD

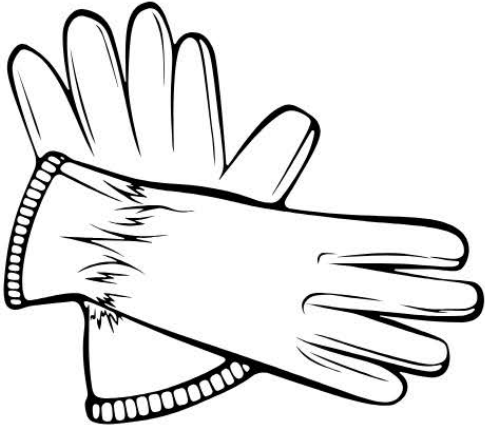

- Garden: The Powerline Corridor between Charlais & Somerset Drive
- 503-629-6300
- communitygardens@thprd.org

See the backside for a fun activity!

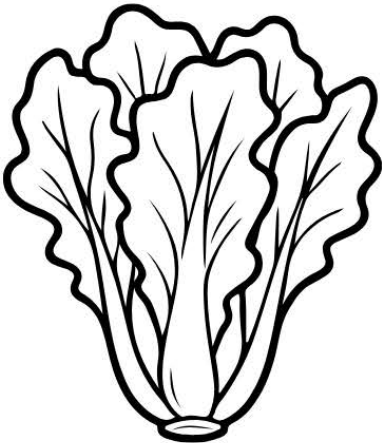

Coloring Page

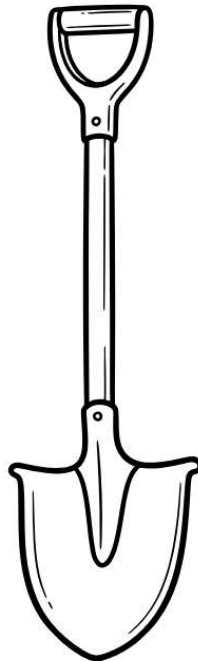

gloves

bee

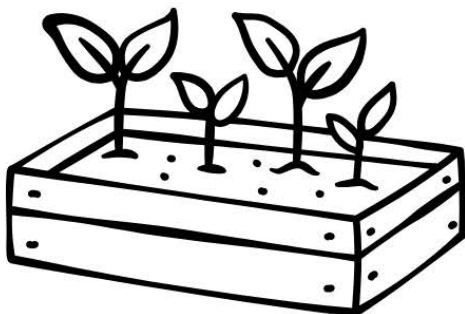

lettuce

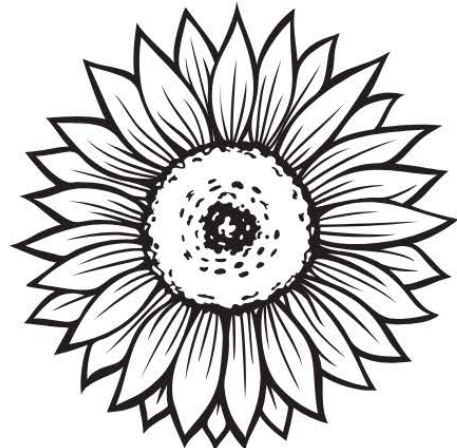

shovel

compost

garden box

flower